

While strides have been made in Medicaid managed care accountability and value-based purchasing, Rhode Island continues to work towards a focus on accountability for health outcomes inclusive of population health and social determinants. Rhode Island is on the forefront of a shift from a fee for service model to a value-based payment system; this paradigm shift requires collaboration across delivery systems and stakeholders. There is also limited capacity within Medicaid managed care to address broader social needs, which often overshadow and exacerbate members' medical needs – e.g., housing/housing security, food security, domestic violence/sexual violence. These issues are particularly problematic when serving the most complex Medicaid populations. In the future, RI Medicaid anticipates taking lessons learned from its AE initiative and its care management initiatives as part of its efforts to improve cost-effectiveness, quality care for the most complex Medicaid populations, including those with long-term care needs.
